You can work remotely from Hawaii during your gallery remodel.

Thanks, Howard, always very informative.

Howard,

Having read many of your newsletters I am pleased to see your excitement both from the results of the recent case and your summer at home during the renovation. I regret that I was unable to visit during my recent trip to NYC this summer but I look forward to it next time I come through and hopefully meeting you.

As a developing painter and collector, your (and others) enthusiasm have helped to stoke my increasing interest in the art market in recent years.

From a young upstart, I just wanted to thank you for you interesting and educational updates, reviews, and ramblings. Best of luck to you and your gallery in the final stages of its renovation and I look forward to stealing a few minutes of your time during my next visit.

Regards,

Ryan V., Texas
